

What is your understanding of our purpose as a Religious Society?

To whom or to what do you feel accountable?

What is the relationship of your personal understanding of truth to the corporate truth of your faith community?

Are you aware of “that of God” in you and in all others?

Do you listen patiently and seek the truth that other people’s thoughts may contain for you?

As you learn from others, are you willing to share with them what you in turn have learned?

Queries from: Faith & Practice, New England Yearly Meeting